

Wednesday Morning Book Club Titles 2018 – 2019

SEPT. Kate Racculia, Bellweather Rhapsody, 340 pp. a group of music students descend on a hotel in upstate New York for the annual Statewide music conference

OCT. Fredrik Backman, Man Called Ove, 337 pp. Very funny book about a man who hates everything trying to kill himself, only to be interrupted by neighbors with problems

NOV. Nina George, The Little Paris Bookshop, 392 pp.

DEC. Marie Benedict, The Other Einstein, 296 pp.

JAN. R.L.S., Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde, a benevolent doctor accidentally comes across a potion that turns him into his worst self

FEB. Agatha Christie, The Hollow, 232 pp., Hercule Poirot investigates murder at a country house

MAR. Meg Medina, Burn Baby Burn, 310 pp.

APR. Andre Dubos, House of Sand and Fog, 365 pp.

MAY Ann Patchett, A State of Wonder

JUNE To Be Announced

ALTERNATES: Y is for Yesterday, Moyes, Me Before You