Attleboro's Kindness Community Read

Family Resource Center READS!: Kindness Stories (Thurs., April 14, 6:30-7:30pm): Join Sydney Williams from the Family Resource Center for a classic story about making the world a more beautiful place. Learn some easy ways to show kindness and why it is so important. Then enjoy a spring-based art activity! This program is part of Attleboro's Reading Passport program for kids in grades K-4, so bring your passport for a stamp!

Kindness Club for Grades 5-12 (Wed., April 30, 3:30-4:30pm): Inspired by the Olivia Knighton Foundation, this monthly (and popular!) program helps youth spread kindness in the city.

Have you witnessed an act of kindness lately? Please share by writing it on a "link" of gold or silver paper located near the elevator. APL staff will add it to a paper chain representing Attleboro's jewelry history.

+++++

Library Giving Day (Tues., April 1): Thank you to the Friends of APL who are leading this effort! This is the fifth annual Library Giving Day, a national online fundraising event that gives library lovers like you a chance to support your local library. This year's goal is $15,000, with funds supporting new furniture to make the APL a more comfortable space to visit. Contributions of any amount are appreciated, and your donation stretches further with matching funds from local individuals and companies! Visit the Friends' site (www.aplfriends.org) to make an online donation.

Craft Club for Grades 5-12: Bookmark Art (Thurs., April 3, 6-7pm): Use a variety of craft supplies to create your personalized bookmark. After creating yours, there's simply no excuse not to read and show it off!

Museum Passes: During school vacation week (April 21-25), borrow one of almost 20 discounted—or free—museum passes to local attractions in Massachusetts and Rhode Island. If you're feeling historically inclined, make sure to borrow the pass from the USS Constitution Museum or Battleship Cove! Call us (508-222-0157) to help reserve a pass for you!

Family Book Fiesta (Wed., April 23, 2-4pm): To celebrate Día (Children's Book Day), the Library is working with The Literacy Center and the Family Resource Center for this free, interactive event! Stories will be read in multiple languages, and participants can design a book cover, enjoy a BINGO for books game, and other fun activities. Open to families of all ages, this event will be memorable for its weaving together of language, culture, and fun!

Trees, Trees, Trees with Kathi Gariepy (Thurs., April 24, 6:30-7:30pm): Local favorite and Master Gardener Kathi Gariepy will discuss—you guessed it—trees! They can improve property values, make your yard look better and feel cooler, and maybe even help save the planet. Trees for all seasons will be discussed, and at the end of this session, you may find the perfect tree for your space!

National Poetry Month: This is probably Director Amy's favorite month! There will be book displays for all age groups, suggestions from staff, and activities to enjoy. This is a great time to attend the Poetry Discussion Group (April 26) to meet fellow poets and poetry lovers!

Book Groups: Visit attleborolibrary.org to learn about the seven book groups that meet at the Library, or visit the Circulation Desk to see what titles are being discussed this month.

The Library works with many others to create opportunities for Attleboro residents to connect with one another. To learn more about events happening in Attleboro, visit the City's events calendar at www.cityofattleboro.us!
